Notification of Force Majeure Event

Dear Business Partner,

We regret to inform you that our Chinese subsidiaries and affiliated companies have a limited supply of aluminum electrolytic capacitors and other products due to a severe power outage. It is caused by power cuts as electricity has been rationed in several provinces and regions by governmental authorities in China (e.g., attached letter).

This event has significantly impacted our ability to manufacture product and meet our supply commitments. It is also extremely difficult for us to predict the total impact on our business and could have a cascading effect on our operations as well as supplier and/or business partners' operations.

Due to the circumstances beyond our reasonable control, Nippon Chemi-Con Corporation is declaring force majeure condition for the products manufactured in China.

We apologize for any inconvenience or interruption this may cause you. We sincerely appreciate your patience during this difficult time. We will continue to work diligently to minimize the impact caused by this event.

If you should have any immediate questions, please contact your local sales representative.

Sincerely,

Takumi IWATA
